MICRO & SEED Application Tips

Getting Started

- Applications are thorough and take time to fill out
  - Competitive applications typically take 10+ hours to complete, including revisions and receiving feedback
- Questions include founders, team, business details, revenue, funding, grant impact, milestones, and use of funds
- Every question asked is important
- Recommend reviewing the application template(s) ASAP

Show Startup Is Ready to Move to Next Stage

- Capable team
  - Including advisors and supporting communities
- Committed to building a scalable company
- Recent momentum and traction (SEED)

REVIEWERS ASSESS IMPACT OF GRANT ON COMPANY GOALS DURING THE CURRENT GRANT CYCLE

- Will grant funds, programming (MICRO), and NC IDEA network help achieve defined business goals that move business forward?
  - NC IDEA MICRO and NC IDEA SEED are not research grants.
- What milestones will you be tracking?
- Why is now the right time?

- No applicant has all aspects of business figured out
- Application is not an extended sales pitch
- For reapplicants, progress since last application is very important

- AI tools can provide research, feedback, suggestions, starting point for specific questions
- AI tools cannot fill out a competitive application without your input, review, company specific data
  - Understand how your data is used by different AI tools

Be Clear and Concise

- The problem you are trying to solve and your solution should be clear upon the first read
- Have others review application before submitting
- Do not fill out the max character limits when not necessary!

Initial Application Objective

---

- It's not to win a grant
- It's to progress to the next round
- Make the reviewer say “I want to learn more”

- NC IDEA staff
- NC IDEA Graduate Associates (SEED only)
- Volunteer reviewers from across NC:
entrepreneurs, investors, ecosystem
partners, subject matter experts

Reviewers sign confidentiality agreements and are asked to disclose conflicts of interest.

- Instructed to be constructive/actionable
- Reviewers don't always agree
- Reviewers may focus on different parts of the application or business in their feedback

- Do not wait until the last minute to submit!
- Watch for spelling and grammar errors
- Save online application often
- Work offline using application template
- Do not log in at the same time on different devices/browsers

- Potential applicants should visit ncidea.org to:
  - Sign up for virtual office hours
  - Download the application templates
  - Start online application: Jan. 26 – Feb. 23 (5 PM)
  - Learn about MICRO / SEED program details and eligibility
  - Review “Spring 2026 Grant Cycle” resource page

MICRO & SEED Application FAQs

Do All Company Staff Have to Live in NC?

No. However, the company must be headquartered and have majority of corporate operations in NC.

- All publicly facing materials must identify the business as a North Carolina company
  - Includes website, social media, and other marketing materials and channels
  - There must be a founder living in NC. If all founders do not reside in NC, you must explain how startup identifies as being an NC company. For SEED, there must be at least one full-time founder residing in NC.

Can Solo Founders Apply?

Yes. The following topics also help us understand the support you have.

- Team: Founder and non-founder info
- Supporting Communities: Organizations you have leveraged so far in your entrepreneurial journey
- Advisors: Formal and informal

Can Companies Reapply?

Yes.

- Company progress since last application is very important
- If areas of concern for reviewers are not addressed, company may not progress as far as previous cycle
- Progress from last application may include finding out what didn't work, as well as what did
- For SEED applicants:
  - 40-50% of applicants applied to MICRO or SEED in a previous cycle

Should I Include a Video?

Including a short video that adds value to your application can be helpful for some reviewers

- Prioritize having a strong application first, before spending time on a video
- Make sure there is adequate lighting/audio, but these do not need to be professional videos

How Can I Use the Grant Funds?

In the ways that move your business forward. It varies for each company, but below are examples.

- Customer Discovery: A/B testing, surveys, interviews
- Marketing: SEO, web design, conference attendance
- Business Development: Lead generation, employee salary, travel, sales
- Product Development/Infrastructure: Prototypes, product testing, development work
- Legal: IP costs, corporate filings, partnership agreements
- Other: Grant writing, full-time founder stipend

Will Reviewers Be Familiar with My Market?

Maybe.

- Reviewers matched to applications based on their backgrounds and preferences, when possible
- Reviewers have backgrounds in funding, advising, working with and running startups
- Reviewers with experience in your industry may not be familiar with your technology or product category
- Avoid using unnecessary industry terms – explain any such terms that you do use
